TROOPERS FIND 2-MAN CREW OF MISSING PLANE

Corporal C. F. Temke and Private Robert Deitrich, of the local state police, found Pilot Thomas Bryan, Brentwood and Mechanic Victor Gasparro, Dravosburg, the crew of the air mail pick-up plane which crashed Monday afternoon at 5:11 o'clock in Mt. Newman, at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Gasparro was found in a hunting camp lodge on Mt. Newman. The pilot had gone on about a quarter-mile to the home of a Mrs. Barnes, where he planned to phone for help. The two men had walked all night and the early part of this morning seeking help before finding the hunting cabin.

The policemen took the aviators to the Mont Alto Sanatorium, about five miles from where the men were found. The pilot suffered a broken left foot. Both were being examined this afternoon by doctors at the sanatorium. Both suffered from shock and exposure.

Police continued their search for the plane.

The east-bound airmail pick-up plane, scheduled to pick up airmail here at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, is unreported and missing since it left Chambersburg at 4:45 o'clock Monday afternoon. Aboard were Pilot Thomas Bryan, 35, of Brentwood, a suburb of Pittsburgh and Victor Gasparro, a mechanic of Dravosburg, also near Pittsburgh.

Today, the single-motor Stinson Reliant high wing monoplane is the object of an extensive search by state police, instructors from the Gettysburg airport and a number of farmers and mountaineers over a wide area.

Search Planes Ready

Because of a low ceiling and poor visibility Richard Bircher, owner-manager of the Gettysburg airport, was unable to send his planes into the air to scour the countryside in search of the missing ship. Twelve instructors, in six automobiles, are covering main and back roads throughout the mountain area, assisting police in the search.

As soon as weather permits Mr. Bircher will send 15 planes into the air. He received a special waiver from Washington officials to use the government-owned planes in the search, although financial responsibility for loss or damage to the ships rests with Mr. Bircher.

State police, handicapped by rain and fog, concentrated their search for the missing plane in the South Mountains west of here. The plane had left Chambersburg at 4:45 o'clock Monday afternoon and was due at Gettysburg at 5 o'clock. It never reached Gettysburg.

A report from the South Mountains' section stated that a plane was heard in that area early last evening but failed to produce any results. A resident of Fayetteville, about 20 miles west of Gettysburg, reported hearing a plane about 6 o'clock last evening and that it appeared to be flying west.

Mrs. Earle W. Shoap reported her husband heard a plane flying low late Monday over their place at Mt. Pleasant, five miles northeast of Chambersburg. Thirteen miles across South Mountain, however, Mrs. Tom Norris said she did not hear the plane which ordinarily passes over her home.

Sergeant J. R. Pfeffer, York, head of this district of the state police, led a contingent of five men from the local sub-station in the search this morning. Among the patrolmen were Corporals C. F. Temke and Earl Moore, and Privates Robert Deitrich, Harold Trout and James A. Treas.

CALL FOR 200 BLOOD DONORS HERE FRIDAY

More than 200 "appointment" cards have been sent by Radford H. Lippy, chairman of the local Blood Donor service in an attempt to increase the number of donors at the October visit of the Red Cross mobile unit scheduled for Friday at Christ Lutheran church.

Increased need for plasma brought about by the Italian and Sicilian campaigns has caused the Red Cross to ask that the number of donors be increased at each station in order to replenish the blood bank established by the Red Cross for use by America's fighting men. Mr. Lippy said.

"If the Red Cross is to meet the demands made—if every man who needs plasma to save his life is to obtain it—then every donor station must increase the number of donors by 30 or 40 each session," the Red Cross chairman asserted. "Sufficient appointments have been made to fill every minute of the period during which the doctors and nurses are here, and if everyone keeps his appointment the county will give its share of blood."

Seek 150 Pints

"We have been averaging more than 100 pints of blood a month, and that number should rise to 150 or better this month. We made the number of appointments larger than that figure because some will be turned down for colds, and other slight illnesses. However, it is imperative at this time that every one for whom an appointment was made be present to give blood in order that the number will not fall below the required figure."

"Every effort has been made to make the hour for giving the donation convenient and anyone who cannot come at the hour set on his card should call me immediately so the hour can be changed," Mr. Lippy said. "Our men are dying for us in the Italian hills right now—is there any work so important that we cannot take off an hour to give a pint of blood that may save one of our soldiers' lives?"

2,784 RATION BOOKS ISSUED BY NOON TODAY

Nearly one-half of the population of Gettysburg received War Ration book No. 4 up to noon today, with 2,784 books issued at the three elementary schools in town, school officials announced today.

High street school issued 1,067 books up to noon, 241 of them this morning. Ninety-two applicants had been to the school this morning for the books, Clair Van Dyke, school site administrator said. Two hundred and eighty-four applicants were at the school Monday for 826 books. While no tally was kept of the number signing the "Home Front Pledge" today, a total of 177 or 62 per cent of the applicants, pledged themselves to not purchase anything over ceiling prices or without stamps on Monday.

Paul A. Mehring, school site administrator at Lincoln school, reported that 877 books had been issued up to noon today, making the total for that school, 1,027. At Meade school Lloyd Hartman, school site administrator, reported 690 books had been issued up to noon today.

All reported that a "good number" of pledges had been taken by the applicants.

Rain this morning slowed the stream of applicants, with Lincoln and Meade school both reporting a much smaller number of applicants than they were expecting.

The period for obtaining War Ration Book 4 will end Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock. All applicants for the new ration books must bring with them Ration Book No. 3, with the front cover properly filled out, before obtaining Book No. 4. It was stated that a number of applicants had to return home to secure signatures of other members.

COFFEE STAMP CONFUSING IN RATION BOOK 4

Consumers who have already received copies of War Ration Book Four were told today by OPA not to be concerned by the fact that certain stamps in the new book bear the word "coffee."

In some areas—consumers have construed the appearance of stamps marked "coffee" in Book Four as an indication that coffee is to be put back on rationing.

Frank J. Loftus, acting director of the Harrisburg district, Office of Price Administration, explained that "appearance of stamps marked 'coffee' in Book Four has no significance. Book Four was printed before coffee was removed from rationing and because the stamp shows up in the new ration book being distributed now does not mean that OPA is planning to ration coffee again."

"In fact, supplies of coffee are increasing and stocks in the country are vastly greater than they have been in many months."

FINISH 39,000 R.C. DRESSINGS AT CENTER HERE

The county Red Cross surgical dressing center in the Legion building was closed Monday and today while supervisors completed arrangements for converting production from two-by-two-inch and four-by-four-inch pads to large eight-by-eight-inch abdominal cotton dressings.

Volunteer women working at the surgical dressing center completed 30,000 two-by-two and 9,000 four-by-four dressings last week, with shipment of the quota scheduled for later this week.

Wednesday the center will reopen with the women working on the eight-by-eight combination pads made of layers of absorbent and non-absorbent cotton.

Need More Helpers

During the two-day period during which the center is closed the 15 supervisors are learning how to make the new dressings during a course of instruction given by the production chairman, Mrs. LeRoy H. Winebrenner, and arrangements were completed to have 500 pounds of cotton ready for the volunteer workers when they begin their daily sessions at 1:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Because of the thousands of surgical dressings to be made, many more volunteers are needed to complete the work, Mrs. Winebrenner said today. Facilities for a much larger number of workers are available at the present time and more women will be needed to keep up the production now that a larger dressing is to be made.

While praising those who have been engaged in the work, many since its inception, Mrs. Winebrenner pointed out that the workers need assistance if they are to meet their quotas. Any woman or organization wishing to help in the making of the dressings may call Mrs. Winebrenner and arrange for the periods during which they will assist.

WAR FUND ONLY $583; $28,000 MORE REQUIRED

An additional $105 turned in to the treasurer, Mrs. Ellen Tipton Buehler, brought the Adams county War Fund to $583.75 this morning. The drive is scheduled to end Saturday.

The county-wide drive is designed to raise $28,770 for 17 related war agencies including the USO, United Seaman's Service, War Prisoners Aid, Belgian War Relief Society, British War Relief Society, French Relief Fund, Friends of Luxembourg, Greek War Relief Association, Norwegian Relief, Polish War Relief, Queen Wilhelmina Fund, Russian War Relief, United China Relief, United Czechoslovak Relief, United Yugoslav Relief, Refugee Relief Trusts and United States Committee for the Care of European Children.

Largest contribution Monday was $75 from the local Eagles lodge. The Gettysburg Ice and Storage gave $10, Adams County Farm Bureau, $5 and $15 by individuals.

How to Make Out Checks

Mrs. Buehler today asked that all donors make out their checks to "Adams County War Fund," despite the fact that on the pledge card given by the donor the sum is specified to be given to one or several of the 17 agencies. Donors have the privilege of dividing their donation among the various funds, or to give all of their contribution to one of the 17 agencies if they so desire, Mrs. Buehler said, but the check in all cases is to be made out to the Adams County War Fund rather than to the individual society.

Three hundred and sixty soldiers and sailors have used the local USO canteen since its establishment two months ago, it was announced today. (Please Turn to Page 7)

LIONS QUIZZED ABOUT SCHOOL SYSTEM HERE

Gettysburg Lions learned during a quiz session at their weekly dinner meeting Monday evening that more than 10 per cent of the school teachers in Gettysburg are veterans of 10 or more years of service; that all of the present school buildings in use here once served as high schools; that the local school bonded debt is only $32,000; that local school property is worth about $412,000 and that during the last 10 years a majority of the members of the school board have also been members of the Lions club.

The quiz was conducted by Lloyd C. Keefe, superintendent of the Gettysburg public schools and a member of the Lions club. He was assisted by Robert Smith, the club's treasurer; the Rev. Robert M. Hunt, new Presbyterian pastor and a guest for the evening, and S. 2/c William A. Beales, former Lions president now on duty with the Navy at Camp Peary, Va.

The Lions also learned that it costs more for school supplies such as paper and pencils than it does for text books. The clubmen found out, too, that the annual school budget is more than $100,000 here and that the 47 professional employees in the local school system are paid more than $85,000 annually.

Clark Advances 5 Miles; Takes 10 Italian Towns

By EDWARD KENNEDY

Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Oct. 26 (AP) — Allied Armies in Italy have captured 10 more towns in advances up to five to six miles, it was announced today, and German opposition on the Fifth Army front diminished as the Nazis apparently fell back to new positions.

Lt.-Gen. Mark W. Clark's Fifth Army seized Raviscanina only 15 miles south of the large transport city of Isernia, and an Eighth Army column striking up from the southeast took Objano, some 15 miles from Isernia on the main road from Campobasso.

Blast Yugoslav Airfield

The Fifth gained four to five miles in taking Raviscanina, 19 miles north of Capua, and also took the towns of Francoise, 2 1/2 miles west of captured Sparanise, and Rocchetta.

Four other towns besides Bojano fell to the British, including Baranello, a stronghold between Campobasso and Bojano, Spineto, four miles north of Bojano, Petrella and Palata.

Medium bombers and long-range fighters of the Northwest African Air Force attacked the airfield at Povdonika in Yugoslavia yesterday, an air communique said, while in Italy, medium, light and fighter-bombers hit road and rail targets north of the battle area on the east and west coasts.

Tarquina airdrome northwest of Rome also was hit. Two Allied planes were lost in all operations.

Four Red Armies Pound Million Fleeing Nazis

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

Moscow, Oct. 26 (AP)—Four hard-hitting Soviet armies today were pursuing the battered legions of Adolf Hitler retreating across southern Russia from the shattered Dnieper river defense wall toward the Bug river, 175 miles to the west.

Front dispatches indicated that the badly mauled forces were waging desperate but futile rearguard battles along a 200-mile-long front from Kremenchug south to the sea of Azov, intent only on saving as much as possible from what may prove to be the greatest German disaster since Stalingrad.

Disordered Retreat

The German retreat, accelerated by the Russians' capture of the industrial cities of Dnepropetrovsk and Dneprodzerzhinsk in the great Dnieper Bend yesterday, was bluntly characterized by a Russian communique as "disordered." It yielded "enormous quantities" of war material abandoned by the Nazis. Thousands of Germans were reported killed in fierce fighting on the flat Ukrainian steppes above the Crimea.

(London dispatches, based on Moscow advices and admissions of danger emanating from Berlin broadcasts, estimated there were perhaps 1,000,000 Germans involved in the mass retreat across the Ukraine.)

(Indicative of Russian offensive strength in the far North, the Polish Telegraph agency in London quoted underground sources as saying that the Germans have already mined Lwow in southeastern Poland, ready to blow it to ruins in the event of a Russian breakthrough on the White Russian front.)

BULLETINS

Washington, Oct. 26 (AP)—Vice Admiral Thomas C. Kin-kaid, commander of the Aleutians area, disclosed today that "quite a few" Japanese submarines were sunk by American destroyers while the enemy evacuated its garrison on Kiska Island. "We got quite a few and it was enough to make it hurt," he said at a press conference in which he outlined the long campaign that drove the Japanese from the Aleutians.

Cairo, Oct. 26 (AP)—British forces have "successfully evacuated" the Island of Cos in the Dodecanese group under pressure of a German sea and air-borne counter-attack, a British communique announced today. The British occupied the island off the west coast of Turkey, along with several others of the group, in a surprise move last month following the Italian surrender.

Harrisburg, Oct. 26 (AP) — Governor Martin said today he doubted if orders of Milk Control Commission increasing prices throughout Pennsylvania, except Philadelphia, will be placed into effect November 1. (Please Turn to Page 2)

R. C. Has Better Shipping Facilities

Relations of Adams countyans in war prison camps in the Far East will soon be among prisoners receiving regular relief supplies from the American Red Cross, the local chapter announced today.

The Union of Socialist Soviet Republics has made available 1,500 tons of shipping space each month on Russian ships for the American Red Cross. The supplies will be sent monthly and will be reshipped from Vladivostok for distribution in all Far Eastern points where American and Allied civilians and military personnel are held in prison camps.

Large quantities of supplies have been rushed from American Red Cross packaging centers in St. Louis and Chicago to the west coast for the first loading, it was stated.

Allies Smash Jap Air Force In Rabaul Area

Allied Headquarters in the Southwest Pacific, Oct. 26 (AP)—Rabaul, the heart of Japanese air might in the southwest Pacific, has been completely overpowered and strewn with the wreckage of 311 planes in four recent daylight assaults by hundreds of General MacArthur's bombers and fighters.

Today's communique disclosed the results of the third and fourth raids by nearly 300 planes Saturday and Sunday—123 enemy aircraft certainly wiped out and 45 others probably destroyed.

This mounting disaster at Japan's New Britain air fortress over a 12-day period, from Oct. 12 to 24, has been achieved at a price of only 12 Raiders. Two Lightning fighters and two Mitchell bombers were lost in the latest attacks but both fighter pilots and the crew of one bomber were saved.

800 Planes Downed

Total air losses of the Japanese listed in today's communique accounts of widespread operations were 203 which raised to approximately 800 the number of enemy planes bagged within the last two week period in the south and southwest Pacific.

Nearly 60 Liberators, heavily screened by fighters, opened the latest attack on Rabaul Saturday afternoon. Making a feint as if to attack warships in the harbor the warships began to zig-zag frantically—the big bombers flew their 105 tons of bombs to the Rapopo airdrome. Twenty grounded planes were destroyed for certain, seven others probably.

PAIR SENTENCED

Merle Glee, Chambersburg, and Bass Heaton, Williamstown, West Virginia, were sentenced to 10 days in the county jail Monday in default of $5 and costs on disorderly conduct charges by Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore. The two men had been arrested Saturday by Borough Officer Charles W. Culp, Jr.

GREAT DISASTER COULD BE CAUSE OF NAZI DOOM

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

(Associated Press War Analyst)

What justification, if any, is there for the various European reports that Germany is on the point of cracking up?

For instance, a dispatch from Scotland reports that British soldiers who have just returned from Nazi prison camps say German hope and morale are cracking under the strain of the steadily increasing British and American air attacks on key cities.

London tells us that statements leaking out of Germany through neutral countries describe last week as the blackest of the war for Hitler, and hint at a critical situation on the home-front.

Nazi commentators have made no bones recently of expressing grave concern over the trend of the fighting on the Russian front.

Dr. Jenny, widely known Swiss newspaperman, writes that "in wide circles it is considered possible that Germany will break within a few weeks."

Ivan Yermashov, Soviet commentator, wrote the other day in the Red Star, organ of the Russian Army, that a decisive blow through France by the western Allies would bring about swift defeat of Germany and a quick end to the war.

Sudden Collapse

Our Brigadier General Curtis E. Lemay, commander of the United States Heavy Bomber division in England, says that German war industry will be so smashed by spring as the result of the Allied bombing that the Nazis won't be able to fight effectively any longer on land or sea or in the air. Of course, spring isn't at hand, but it isn't so far off, at that.

Well, the answer to all this is that Germany's immediate fate is so delicately balanced that a great stroke of adversity might bring sudden collapse.

As General Sir Bernard Montgomery says in a message to his army, "If ever anything is certain in this life it is now clear that we shall win this war." When that stage of dead certainty is reached in a conflict, then anything can happen. It might be a military disaster, or it might be the sudden cracking of morale on the home front, such as Germany experienced in the last war.

Magnificent Morale

There's no harm in hoping hard that there will be such a collapse, and we're not crazy to think about it. However, it would be criminal for us to fool ourselves into believing that our wishes are actualities—that Germany is bound to collapse in the near future.

What might have we, for instance, to assume that the morale of the German Army might crack? It has been magnificent, so far as has been reported. The great and protracted Nazi retreat to the Dnieper without a collapse was one of the outstanding achievements of the war, because a retreat is one of the most difficult of military operations. That called for fool-proof morale on the part of the Hitlerite troops.

We have said the war is in that stage where anything can happen. That cuts two ways. One of the things might be the development of unexpected resistance on the part of the Nazis. There's no reason to believe that anything will occur to give Hitler a chance to win the war, but he might get a break which would enable him to stand off defeat for a considerable period.

Must Be No Letup

While we're doing all this wishing, we must stop and ask ourselves why it is that Hitler is in such a precarious position. The answer is vital to victory. It is that we not only have grand fighting forces battling for us, but that the home fronts in America and Britain have by a supreme effort produced the war materials with which the Nazi gangster has been driven into a corner.

Unrelenting pressure by that combination—the fighting forces and the home front—has turned the trick. By the same token, if we relax the pressure we give Hitler a fresh lease of life.

That's the most important thing we have to remember at this critical juncture of the war. We shall be giving Hitler a blood transfusion if anything which causes a slackening in war production or transportation of supplies in the United States or Britain.

YOUNG WOMAN SLAIN IN D. C.

Washington, Oct. 26 (AP)—An attractive red-haired young woman, shot six times, was dumped out of an automobile and left to die on a rain-swept street near the Capitol last night.

The man who left her there was swallowed up today in crowded Washington as police hunted him with only meagre clues. They knew only that he was about five feet eight inches tall, and weighed about 170 pounds.

Mrs. Robert Lucas, 31-year-old housewife, was a partial witness to the grim happenings, at Seventh and A streets, N.E., about a half mile from the national Capitol. Returning to her home through the murk of a squally evening after posting a letter at a corner box, she saw a car draw up to the curb, a well dressed man was removing a woman from the front seat. When she turned around to have a better look, she reported, the man asked gruffly:

"What do you think you're looking at?"

Frightened, she ran into a nearby house and told about what was going on. A chauffeur who went out to investigate found the young woman lying at the base of a tree, and partly across the sidewalk. She had five bullet wounds in the head and one in the hand, and died mumbling incoherently.

The victim, about 30 years old, was neatly dressed, and wore a string of inexpensive pearls and a gold ring with a blue stone. She carried no identification, but her gray plaid coat bore the labels of a Chicago store.

SUSPECT PILOT IN WIFE'S DEATH

New York, Oct. 26 (AP)— Tall, athletic-looking Wayne Lonergan, termed by New York police "a likely suspect" in the slaying of his 22-year-old heiress wife, Patricia, steadfastly maintained his innocence today as authorities quizzed him again in Toronto.

The Royal Canadian Air Force cadet was questioned for three hours last night by Assistant District Attorney John Locher of New York but appeared unruffled when he left police headquarters early today to await further questioning.

To a point-blank question fired at him by a reporter as to whether he denied any connection with the strange-murder of his wife, the 26-year-old student flared said: "Yes."

Locher, who flew to Toronto from here, said he had detected scratches on Lonergan's neck and chin.

Mrs. Lonergan, heiress to a $5,000,000 brewery fortune, was found dead Sunday, her unclad body sprawled across a bed in her lavishly decorated Beekman Hill apartment. A heavy, antique brass candlestick was found nearby on the floor.

Yank Prisoners Reach Liverpool

Liverpool, Oct. 26 (AP)—Fourteen wounded Americans fresh from German prison camps landed on Merseyside Docks today with 776 other Allied soldiers after a welcome of gun salutes, whistle blasts and songs.

They came on the hospital ship Atlantis which reached home two days after two other exchange ships, the Empress of Russia and the Drottingholm, had docked at Leith, Scotland.

Many of them had been in hospitals since they fell on the fields of France in 1940 and some had been waiting two years for the conclusion of negotiations for their exchange for German war prisoners.

Sgt. John Gardner, of Yoakum, Tex., was the first American carried off the British hospital ship. He was the first American to land under his own colors, two had arrived in Scotland yesterday being members of Canadian regiments.

Moscow Parley In Second Week

Moscow, Oct. 26 (AP)—The three power conference moved into its eighth session today, following a lengthy meeting last night of the diplomatic technicians who are framing the decisions arrived at by U. S. Secretary of State Cordell Hull, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Soviet Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov.

The job of the experts was said to be exceedingly difficult. They must "weigh the value of the words" which have passed between the three statesmen, it was explained, determine the meaning of any agreements they have reached and then commit the decisions to cold type.

The Hull-Eden Molotov talks were reported to be going along excellently with all parties pleased with the progress.

PREDICT BILL TO DEFER DADS

Washington, Oct. 26 (AP) — The House got its long-awaited fling at father-draft deferment legislation today.

Indications were it would, by nightfall, pass a bill to put husbands and fathers at the bottom of the induction list and strengthen the authority of Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey in administration of the Selective Service law.

Up for action was a rewritten version of the measure on this subject which the Senate passed several weeks ago when the upper chamber rejected proposals for an outright ban on general father-drafting.

Opening debate on the House version, Chairman May (D-Ky.) of the Military committee which did the revamping, asserted the legislation was necessary "to preserve the homes of this nation, which are the foundation of our society and the bulwark of our home front effort."

"All this bill does," he said, "is to see to it that the fathers of this country are not drafted before all available non-fathers are taken."

AGED WOMAN DIES IN FIRE

Philadelphia, Oct. 26 (AP) — An 80-year-old woman, unable to leave her bed because of a heart ailment, was burned to death today in a fire that wrecked her home.

The victim, Mrs. Julia Reynolds, was taken from the building by firemen but died a short time later in a hospital.

Her son, Frank C. Reynolds, a fingerprint expert at Eastern penitentiary, helped his five children through their grandmother's second-story bedroom window to a porch roof, from which they climbed to the ground.

Reynolds returned and tried to lift his mother from her bed but she screamed in pain and he was compelled to leave her, fearing to aggravate her condition. When he returned with firemen to help, her bed was ablaze.

American's Day Starts With Breakfast

American crystal never asks the time of day. You can set it out for breakfast, again for lunch, dinner, and all other times when food or drink is in order. It sparkles and glories any setting and is sturdily made to endure hard usage. Another virtue is its amazing low price. Still another, it is open stock. You can always match and add. So can one for whom you buy American as a gift.

Ninety-seven of the typewriter experts selected the South Bend Irish as the best team in the country and rated their Saturday rivals from Annapolis as third.

MONTGOMERY WINS BY TKO

Philadelphia, Oct. 26 (AP)—Bob Montgomery, holder of what Pennsylvania and New York term the lightweight championship, today looked forward to defending his title in New York, Nov. 19, after polishing off Pete Scalzo, of New York, on a technical knockout in 53 seconds of the sixth round of their scheduled ten-rounder in Convention hall last night.

A crowd of 5,000 were screaming for a knockout after the Bobcat opened a cut on Scalzo's head in the first round, felled him for a count of eight in the third stanza and twice more in the fifth. Referee Irving Kutcher called the fight after 53 seconds of the sixth. The title was not at stake.

Both fighters were above the lightweight limit when they donned the gloves. Montgomery weighed in at 137½, just one pound less than the New Yorker.

Shawnee, Okla., Oct. 26 (AP)—Jim Thorpe, Oklahoma's great Indian athlete of yesteryear, disclosed today his longing for a berth in the athletic department of the University of Oklahoma.

"I want to help the state any way I can and I could do so there better than any other place," he declared. Thorpe recently returned to Shawnee, his old stamping grounds, to be near his boys who are attending Indian schools in the state. His home recently had been in Detroit.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Oct. 26 (AP)—Chalk up another score for Deacon Branch Rickey . . . plenty of baseball club presidents have tried to take the sting out of a disappointing season by firing the manager, but the branch that grows in Brooklyn is the first one to figure out how to fire the manager and still keep him . . . Rickey gave Leo Durocher the leave-ho as player-manager just before the bums staggered home at the end of the season, allowed a month for the fans to argue about that Leo never led the Dodgers any lower than third in his five seasons, and then took him right back again without the "player" tag . . . that probably proves that Rickey prefers a manager who generally is in hot water to one who might never get hot . . . it may also prove that baseball news is scarce when Branch comes right out with such an announcement at the first meeting in his Montague street smoke-house.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR
Hank Wolfe, Richmond, (Va.) News-Leader: "Don't tell me that schoolboy footballers aren't war-conscious. We ballyhooed a local prep game with full force recently because it matched two undefeated teams. One player, after scanning a few write-ups, muttered: 'all that stuff is just propaganda for the opposition.'"

LAUGHING LATINS
During the recent Pan-American tennis tournament at Mexico City, Referee Ernesto Lopez, who distinguished himself by calling foot faults against the visiting players, started exchanging wisecracks in English with the players during an exhibition match between Pancho Segura and Pauline Betz and Jack Knemeyer and Berta Garcia . . . the results were so hilarious that Berta, a chubby little girl from Havana, laughed so hard she couldn't serve and the spectators were more than a trifle puzzled . . . Argentine newspapers devoted a lot of space to the 20th anniversary of the famous Dempsey-Pirpo heavyweight fight, asking: "is the championship going to remain forever in the United States?" . . . and getting no answer from the "wild bull," who still has a lot of the tame bills ($1) he collected during his fighting career.

QUOTE, UNQUOTE
Ott Heller, who has played alongside 12 different defensemen in 13 seasons of big-league hockey with the Rangers: "Ching Johnson would take the man and he'd say: 'You just pick up the puck, kid, when I get finished with the guy coming in.' That's the way I've liked to play defense ever since."

SHORTS AND SHELLS
Honolulu fight fans, who think they have the world's best bantamweight in Rush Dalma, peeled off $6,000 from their bankrolls and told Promoter Leo Leavitt to get Champion Manuel Ortiz out there for a fight. But Ortiz isn't listening . . . Boone Baker, one half of Coach Snorter Luster's "wingsback and a prayer" combination at Oklahoma U., is out of action for a month with a broken hand . . . and from the looks of the scores, maybe something happened to the prayer, too . . . So far this season the grid giants have blocked four punts—three by Frank Cope—in three games. Last season only five punts were blocked in the whole National league.

"Nelson's Asiatics" a softball team named for Marine private Royce B. Nelson of Oklahoma City, won 23 straight games at a South Pacific base. Pvt. Nelson pitched every game.

The U. S. now has 3,902 war nurseries and child care centers which have facilities for 214,885 children.

DUROCHER WILL AGAIN MANAGE BROOKLYN TEAM

By TED MEIER

Brooklyn, Oct. 26 (AP)—"The mystery of the 25th player" provided a new puzzle for Dodger baseball fans today in the wake of the solution for "the riddle of the fired manager."

Branch Rickey, president of the club, neatly wrote finish to "the fired manager" riddle by announcing yesterday he had decided to retain Leo "Lippy" Durocher as manager for the 1944 season. Durocher, center of a player rebellion in July, was rumored on his way out especially after Rickey gave him his unconditional release last month in order to negotiate with him as a free agent.

No sooner had Rickey issued his announcement at a press conference than Durocher, asked if he could regain the confidence of his players, declared "I like all the players but one," of the 25 on the Dodger roster.

Immediately the identity of that 25th player became the subject of wide speculation.

"Is it Billy Herman?" he was asked. Herman, star second baseman, had been reported in line for the managerial post.

"No. Herman is a great guy," Durocher replied.

Not Vaughan
"It isn't Arky Vaughan, is it?" Vaughan, star shortstop and third baseman briefly turned in his uniform during the July rumpus that led to the immediate trading of star Pitcher Bobo Newsom and the later departure of Joe Medwick and Dolph Camilli.

"It is not Herman or Vaughan," Durocher asserted as Rickey nodded his head in agreement. "But I don't want to go into personalities."

"Well, will this guy be traded during the winter?" he was asked. Durocher hesitated and Rickey replied "I don't think Leo has such a feeling against the man that he can't tolerate him."

For the first time in his six-year tenure at Ebbets field Durocher will be strictly a bench manager. Rickey did not disclose the terms, but Leo frankly said: "It is the best contract I've ever had since I've been in baseball."

Rickey, referring to suggestions that Durocher took a salary cut, declared "I wouldn't advise anyone to go out on a limb on that." Durocher reportedly received $30,000 during 1943.

CHICAGO CARD STAR SETTING AERIAL RECORD

Chicago, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Chicago Cardinals haven't won a game in the National football league but they have kept the ball in the air so much it's beginning to sprout wings.

They're using a pole as the contact point for most of their passes. His name is Eddie Rucinski, and he has become the league's leading receiver with 15 catches for a gain of 255 yards and two touchdowns.

Rucinski, a 6-foot 3-inch end, who received his football tutoring at Indiana, was with the Brooklyn Dodgers for two seasons. But their lack of an aerial game failed to give him much of a chance to shine as a receptionist. The Cards nailed him this year in one of the screwiest deals of the league. They traded him for Gay Tinsley, at one time a fine tackle.

Luckman Leads

Although Rucinski now is having a "rebirth" as a pro performer, he is finding that the old master of pass-snagging, Green Bay's Don Hutson, is prepared to challenge him. Hutson also has caught 15 tosses, three for scores, but has gained 30 less yards than Rucinski. Washington's Wilbur Moore, last week's leader, dropped to third place with 13 catches for 211 yards and four markers.

Based on number of completions, Sid Luckman of the Chicago Bears still is the top passer, hitting on 53 of 90 attempts for 948 yards and pitching 11 touchdowns. Washington's Sammy Baugh is second with 36 out of 66 for 435 and eight touchdowns, while freshman Frankie Sinkwich of Detroit is a surprising third with 29 out of 79 for 398 and five tallies.

Fans Protest Fight Decision

New Britain, Conn., Oct. 26 (AP)—Joey Peralta, 136, of Tamaqua, Pa., won an unpopular decision over Johnny Mack, 138, of New Britain, in an eight-round fight at the Stanley arena last night.

The plant pictured is the latest addition to Sunoco's Marcus Hook Refinery, which every week produces enough 100-octane aviation gasoline to propel 2000 four-engine bombers from England to Berlin and back.

Adds to Sunoco's position as one of the world's largest producers of aviation fuel!

Tomorrow Sunoco proudly dedicates a huge new aviation gasoline plant, the largest of its type in existence. In this self-contained plant, all petroleum components of aviation gasoline are produced and blended into the finest 100-octane fighting fuel.

The new plant, added to the giant facilities already in operation, makes our Marcus Hook refinery one of the largest producers of 100-octane aviation fuel in the world.

Sun First to Make Catalytic Cracking Commercially Practical

Sunoco's leadership really began long before Pearl Harbor, when the company first made commercially practical a now-famous process of catalytic cracking. No greater contribution has been made to the war effort. For, without the principle of catalytic cracking, Allied aviation fuel requirements could not have been met.

A Triumph of Private Initiative

Sunoco's entire aviation fuel program has been accomplished without government aid or subsidy. Facilities costing more than 36 million dollars are now devoted to war production in the company's Marcus Hook refinery alone. It is only through such free play of private initiative that all American progress has been achieved.*

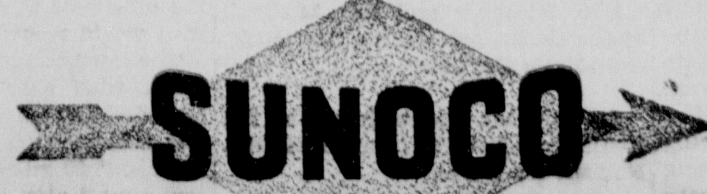

Be with us by radio

This huge new aviation fuel plant will be dedicated in impressive ceremonies which will be broadcast both by CBS and The Blue Network.

LUCKLESS FISHING TRIP

Said I to the Bishop when fishing was bad:
"I wish that the faith of good Simon we had.
You remember He told him the day they first met
To try once again and to cast out his net,
And Simon responded: "We toiled through the night
And nothing we caught, try as hard as we might,
But at Thy word I'll let down the net and it filled
So full of great fishes the boat almost spilled."

"Take Simon of old, who once fished through the night,
We've fished all the day without getting a bite.
Is it faith we are lacking that luck seems to frown?
Said Simon: 'At Thy word the net I'll let down!'
And a great rush of fishes came into the net,
So many that almost the boat was upset.
Without getting one bite all the morning we sat.
Do you think it would help if we'd faith such as that?"

Today's Talk
By George Matthew Adams

MARGARITE

This talk is not about a young lady—but a mere red squirrel. The late E. V. Lucas once termed the red squirrel "a poem in fur." Margarite is the name I gave to my pet squirrel at my lodge, in Nova Scotia, this summer. We just gave her this name because we thought of it first, and considered it appropriate for so friendly a creature.

Margarite had spirit, if you know what I mean. She would come at my call. (Because she always knew I had some peanuts in my pocket!). She seemed to have absolutely no fear of me. If I did not come forth at once with my contribution she would scold and call—and, perhaps under her breath, squirrel-curse! But she always got what she wanted.

She was a stylish bit, too. This little climber of the wild. Her coat was smooth and beautiful and her filmy tail clung gracefully to that beautiful back, as she sat on her hind legs and ate rapidly. One thing I noticed was that she "fletcherized" her food—each bite being chewed probably a score or more times, and yet with remarkable speed.

I learned a great deal about the make-up of Margarite because she would climb up my bare legs and sit on my knee as she ate. Those long, needle-like toenails were brilliantly sharp. No wonder she could be so acrobatic, making leaps—and never missing—from tree to tree. And what during she displayed!

Small bits my little friend would eat on the spot. Larger ones were always taken away to her favorite place on the little island across the bridge, where right now she is probably glad that she did, for I am wondering what she is thinking about the sudden departure of her summer friend. Often, however, so anxious was she to get all the supplies possible, she would bury her gift, digging carefully and deep, planting the nut in the ground, and then most carefully, she would take her small paws and cover it all up.

These red squirrels are jealous creatures, sad to relate. They will not let another squirrel come within any short distance of them while eating, without chasing them away, wildly noising as they do so. But these joyful creatures are amusing and friendly, trustful, and pulsing with joyful life, nervous, yet always watchful. I miss Margarite—but she doesn't know it.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Friend to the town."

MISSIONARY TO JAPS ASKS FOR STUDY OF ENEMY

Indiana, Pa., Oct. 26 (AP)—Rev. John C. Smith, a missionary in Japan for more than 13 years, urged today that Americans carefully study the reasons "why Japan is our enemy."

Declaring that the Japanese "do things for the same reasons that we do them," and that that country has been undergoing a social revolution, Mr. Smith told a convocation at Indiana State Teachers college:

"I was thrilled this past year when I heard Madame Chiang say for us Christians, 'no matter what we have overcome or suffered we must try to forgive those who have injured us. The teachings of Christ radiate ideas far above the common passions of hate and degradation. He taught us to hate the evil in men but not men themselves.'"

Japs Supported League

"I was ashamed that no political leader in the so-called Christian countries of America and Great Britain had yet said these things, for our Christianity does make a difference. Because we believe in God and Christ we bring even to international problems a different attitude and a faith which I believe is the only hope of our war-torn world."

Mr. Smith said that after World War I there was "no greater supporter of the League of Nations than Japan" but that in 1931 a change occurred in which the military clique grasped power and sought to dominate the Orient.

Flashes of Life

WOULDN'T YOU KNOW

Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. (AP)—The girls comprising the WAC detachment at Post Headquarters, in tune with the times, call their mail orderly "Postal Packin' Mama." Lay that postcard down, babe!

AT YOUR SERVICE

Kansas City (AP)—John Moore, 18, tried to enroll in the Maritime Service, but gave up upon learning he had to have parents' or guardians' consent. He has neither parents nor guardian.

Recruiting Seaman Jerry McCafferty, 22, fixed that—he took Moore before a probate judge and adopted him.

Now Moore is in the Maritime Service.

RAILROADIN'

Blue Springs, Mo. (AP)—Agent J. S. Preston, after 42 years' service, notified the Alton railroad he would have to give up his job and move—he couldn't find a house here.

In a short while a work train pulled into Blue Springs. Two box cars were set off on the right-of-way and a crew of carpenters went to work.

Soon now, the Prestons will move into an attractive 4-room modern home.

IMPOSSIBLE, BUT — — —

Kansas City (AP)—On a train trip east Mrs. Allen Francis and another woman struck up an acquaintance and the conversation turned to stockings.

"I have nine pairs your size that won't fit me," the woman told Mrs. Francis, "and I'll send them to you—as a gift."

"Oh yeah?" thought Mrs. Francis.

But awaiting her at home she found the nine pairs—all nylons.

Justice Begins 30 Days In Prison

Philadelphia, Oct. 26 (AP)—A 30-day prison sentence began today for Clarence S. Hunsicker, a Montgomery county justice of the peace and owner of a Limerick, Pa., garage, charged with violation of OPA price regulations in the sale of tires.

U. S. District Judge J. Cullen Ganey imposed the sentence yesterday after Hunsicker pleaded guilty. Six others were given suspended sentences and fines on similar charges. They were the last of 115 persons indicted by a Federal grand jury here last February.

Tanker Disaster Finds Sub Victim

Palm Beach, Fla., Oct. 26 (AP)—Four of the 28 survivors of a tanker collision which claimed 88 lives off the Florida coast last Wednesday remained hospitalized today but their condition was termed good by the commanding officer of the Army General hospital.

The four, suffering serious burns, are Lt. (jg) Ivan V. Merrick of Wellsville, Kan., member of the Navy gun crew; E. V. Rodriguez, steward; Michael Pacinski, second pumper, and John L. Dolene, machinist. All four were aboard an empty southbound tanker.

Col. Charles Demmer, commanding officer at the hospital, said the men would recover.

The northbound tanker which was laden with aviation gasoline that exploded and spread over both ships, was still burning today after drifting about 20 miles and striking bottom almost atop a freighter sunk by enemy submarines nearly two years ago. The bodies of its dead were still aboard.

The other tanker has been floated and towed to port. It had 28 bodies on board.

Struck By Heavy Tie, Child Dies

Latrobe, Pa., Oct. 26 (AP)—A railroad tie slipped from the shoulder of Charles Barclay of Derry township and fatally injured his three-year old daughter, Shirley Ruth, Coroner H. Albert McMurray reported today.

The tragedy occurred yesterday as Barclay, his wife and the baby were walking on their farm. The child died in a hospital here of a fractured skull and internal injuries.

Asks Amendment To Ban Poll Tax

Washington, Oct. 26 (AP)—Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) suggested a constitutional amendment today as "the one and only prospect" of outlawing the poll tax, an issue raised again in the Senate judiciary committee which is conducting hearings on the legal angles.

"In my judgment," O'Mahoney told an interviewer, "a filibuster would be impossible against a constitutional amendment." He has introduced one.

"All but eight states have already eliminated the poll tax. The only strength that opposition to poll tax abolition has, comes from the fact that the attempt is to abolish it by law, instead of by a constitutional amendment."

"This would create the precedent by which other minorities in the future could be crushed."

O'Mahoney predicted a filibuster if a house-approved bill prohibiting the collection of a poll tax as a requirement for voting in eight southern states reached the senate floor.

The Senate refused to shut off debate against a similar bill last fall, and the legislation died.

18 Breeds Of Dogs Acceptable

New York, Oct. 26 (AP)—Issuing canine 4-F classifications to chows, setters, pointers, poodles and many other would-be war dogs, the Army has pared to a scant 18 the number of dog breeds acceptable for service in the K-9 Corps.

Dogs for Defense, Inc., official recruiting agency, announced yesterday it had received the "doggy" list from Maj. Gen. Edmund G. Gregory, Army quartermaster general.

Approved breeds include airedale terrier, Alaskan malamute, Belgian and German shepherd, boxer, bull mastiff, farm-type collie, Dalmatian, Doberman pinscher, Eskimo and Siberian huskies, giant schnauzer, Irish water spaniel, mastiff and curly-coated, Chesapeake bay, flat-coated and Labrador retriever.

DAIRMEN ASK OPA TO OKAY MILK PRICES

Harrisburg, Oct. 26 (AP)—Organized dairymen asked to Office of Price Administration today to bow to the Pennsylvania Milk Commission and let the state agency put its retail and wholesale milk price advances into effect without further opposition.

The commission ordered retail advances of two and three cents a quart in all of the state except Philadelphia and producer boosts of 90 cents or more a hundred pounds—declaring it would put the hikes in effect Nov. 1, regardless of OPA's failure to approve the orders.

Regional OPA offices warned distributors they face federal prosecution if they pay more than present ceiling prices or give the producers the commission-approved figure. The federal government has put into operation a program of subsidies which gives producers 40 cents a hundred pounds.

Producers Hopeful

"The prices fixed by the commission—while they do not meet the cost of production—are such that farmers must have them if they are to produce adequate supplies of milk for consumers," declared Allan Miller, counsel for the Pennsylvania Dairymen's League Cooperative.

"Producers are very hopeful OPA will see its way clear to approve the commission's orders," he stated.

Organized dealers, who are threatened with prosecution regardless of which agency they obey, took steps to straighten out their dilemma with the Pennsylvania Association of milk producers naming a committee which will ask for a hearing with both federal and state agencies.

"TALK ABOUT MILEAGE!"

Test car drivers in the Mojave Desert learned plenty about the new GENERAL from American-Made* Rubber

Yes, General's test car drivers know the score. They kept accurate mileage records on the new General from American-Made rubber . . . as they went, around the clock, over blistering desert roads.

Under the hot noonday sun and in the cold of desert darkness . . . through that peculiar, tire-destroying dust . . . these men kept at it to see how long these Generals would last.

It's not the kind of test you'd put a tire to, but it proved, beyond question, that the General, with American-Made rubber, delivers the kind of performance that originally built General's reputation for mileage and safety.

But—Tires Are Still Precious

Because military needs come first—there are only a few civilian tires being made. There is still a tire shortage. So, until the time when everybody can have this new General, our earnest advice is to make your present tires last. Let us help you . . . with recapping, repairing, mileage advice. . . at Quality Tire Headquarters!

URGES VOTERS TO STRAIGHTEN LEGAL TANGLE

Harrisburg, Oct. 26 (AP)—Pennsylvania voters were urged today by the local government commission to straighten out at next Tuesday's election what the legislative agency said is a legal tangle involving methods of determining election districts.

Pennsylvanians will vote "yes" or "no" on a constitutional amendment which would give the state legislative authority to say how election district boundaries shall be fixed.

Under present law, that power is wielded by county courts but Judge Samuel E. Shull of Monroe county ruled the constitution does not give the General Assembly the right to pass such an act.

"We're trying to make the law constitutional," explained State Senator George B. Stevenson, commission chairman. "If the amendment is approved, then the Legislature can re-enact the old law or find some other means of putting the authority back in the hands of the county courts."

Okayed Twice

The Clinton county Republican legislator declared "it's not a political issue at all, and we're trying to get leaders of both parties to accept it. It's just a move in the interests of good government and it will unify procedures."

The question voters will be asked to vote on is:

"Shall section eleven of article eight of the constitution be amended to permit boundaries of election districts in townships and wards of cities and boroughs to be fixed and changed as provided by law instead of by the court of quarter sessions?"

The proposed amendment has been approved by two sessions of the Legislature and now must be passed on by the electorate. It was sponsored by the local government commission.

Also the letter box cleaned and painted if needed with the name of the owner and the numbers of the box plainly stenciled on the side. Miss Hamner states, "This will be an economy in many ways. It will help to make the property look better, it will help the postman."

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

I have seen many new and interesting sights since I left my home in Bendersville, October 19, 1942.

Things that made me stand in awe and wonderment. Things that made me proud that I am an American. But a sight I shall never forget happened one Sunday morning aboard one of our newest and largest ships. What I was doing there is another story and can be told only at a later date.

It was about 9:30 a. m. when I first set foot on the second deck of that great ship. I guess it was the second deck. A Sunday morning service was in progress when I arrived. Several thousand men were standing and singing under the great steel guns. They were being directed by a leader who was standing on a high platform and surrounded by Navy officers and chaplains. After the song came the sermon by the Navy chaplain. It was one of the most interesting and inspirational sermons I have ever heard. He was talking about faith—faith in yourself to do a job. Faith in your leaders. Faith in our country. Faith in God. It was quiet, very quiet, so quiet that you could hear a pin fall, while the Navy chaplain spoke. I could hear the waves lapping at the side of that great ship. See out over the harbor at other ships and men but we standing there seemed to hear only the chaplain on the platform above us.

The sermon was not long and at the close the chaplain said, "Now let us pray, each in his own way." Then one by one, then in pairs, then in groups, that entire several thousand men knelt on the cold steel deck of that ship and each prayed in his own way. What a sight that was. Here was a cross section of America, young America, men who were going into the battle zone, kneeling on the deck of their ship and each praying in his own way. No pagan horde fighting for America or American ideas, but men who believed in God.

Suddenly I too knelt down and God and I had a little conference all our own. After the prayer, another song, "The Old Rugged Cross," as long as I live, wherever I go, that most beloved hymn "The Old Rugged Cross" shall forever remain my favorite song. Another prayer by the chaplain and the greatest church service I ever attended was over. A short time later I got off of that great ship and later it sailed on. But that night before going to bed I could not help but kneel and ask God to forgive me for ever lacking faith in America. For ever lacking faith in the leaders of my country. For ever lacking faith that when this war is over, everything is going to come out all right back home.

Then I thanked Him again for the privilege of being an American, and for the fine protection, love and kindness to us soldier boys, and for the great comfort that He is giving to us and you folks back home.

Dear Sir:
Just a few lines to express my sincere appreciation for sending me the "Gettysburg Times." I meant to do this months ago, but I just never seemed to get around to doing it. Although, if you will forgive me for my negligence, I would like to thank you now for your service.

I will try to describe what I've been doing since I finished "boot training" at Amarillo, Texas. I went to B-17 school and upon graduation I received an A. M. diploma. In July, 1943, I was transferred to Willow Run, located at Ypsilanti, Michigan. There I went to a B-24 school. Upon graduation I received my second A. M. diploma. From there I was transferred to Salt Lake City, A. A. B. I was classified as a B-24 specialist. Now I am assigned to the Second Air Force. I was then transferred to Kearns Field, Utah. Would you please change my address.

"Missing Son" Is Visiting Parents

Freeport, Pa., Oct. 26 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Hager are enjoying a visit from their son, Tech. Sgt. Joseph M. Hager, who was reported "missing in action" last August after an aerial mission over the European continent.

The sergeant, an engineer gunner located at an air base in England for six months, arrived home for a 30-day furlough after cabling his parents he was safe. He said he was not permitted to disclose how he escaped after being downed during a raid.

What we do here but as you know we are not allowed to do that. Thanks once again for "The Times" and hoping everyone in the community is in the best of health. I will close for now.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Sir:
It would be rather annoying to the postal officials, and also a lack of consideration on my behalf in regard to their convenience, if I were not to request you to alter my mailing address on future issues of the Times. My intention for quite some time had been to inform you of this change, but apparently I too am a procrastinator.

India, where it so happens I presently find myself, is a very old country, full of passively-possessed individuals with a view of living far removed from that ideal which all Americans hold dear. Upon traveling about here and there one is disposed to wonder how any country possessing such a vast wealth of undeveloped resources would be content to continue its existing policy while so many other countries of the world have such a higher standard of living. The average Indian looks upon such an item as a bicycle as being a luxury far beyond his reach. In comparison to our rate of income, three hundred rupees (approximately $90.00) is considered a fair return for a year's labor. This is something for the habitual pessimist to meditate upon, for who in America would be willing to change places with the Indians and live under their present standard of living?

Within my scope of comprehension, there is but one Yank from Gettysburg's vicinity, beside myself, who is now here in India under the Tenth Air Force. If there happens to be any of my buddies here in India beside Cpl. William Moose, I would be very grateful to learn all of the facts.

As far as my personal well-being is concerned, I couldn't possibly be much more at ease with the world. Our menu, I believe I am safe in saying, is an equal or better than the menus we had in the States. We can also boast of running water, showers, electric lights and a jeep in which we can ride to and from our day's work.

It is far from my desire to consume all of the printing space allocated to your "Letters to the Editor" column, so I'll be considerate and apply my landing flaps. Best of luck to all of you back home and may God shower his blessings upon you.

One of the boys,
SGT. PAUL J. KUHN

Dear Sir:
Here I am safe and sound in England. I've found this country very interesting. It sure seems funny to see automobiles going up and down the road on the opposite side which we drive on. They also have the right hand drive.

Now a word about their money.

MILK DEALERS CONSIDERING PRICE MUDDLE

Harrisburg, Oct. 26 (AP)—Pennsylvania milk distributors met here Monday to consider State Milk Control Commission orders to boost retail milk prices November 1, in face of an Office of Price Administration warning that anyone violating present ceilings will face prosecution.

Benjamin Eynon, executive vice-president of the Pennsylvania Association of Milk Dealers, said the organization's directors would study the conflicting regulations of the two agencies, but declined to forecast Sunday night what action would be taken.

Two and three cent a quart boosts were ordered into effect by the Milk Commission everywhere in Pennsylvania except Philadelphia, Chairman John M. McKee declaring the action was necessary because of a "disastrous falling off in milk production."

Orders Given
The regional OPA headquarters.

When we got here we exchanged money. They gave me a whole hand full of stuff I didn't know from heads or tails. So I went to town, bought a few things, asked them how much. For instance they said six pence. I just held out my hand and they took what they wanted. I'll tell you the way I learned the money—it was in a poker game. A one pound note equals about four dollars in our money. You can have a whole pocket full of change and still you won't have much. Two pence equals one shilling. Their pennies are as large as our half dollars. Then they have ten shilling notes. Two of them make a pound note.

We are rationed about the same as you civilians are back home. We have ration cards which we buy things at the P.X.

These are the rations we get for two weeks: 14 packs of cigarettes; 4 razor blades; 2 cakes of soap; 4 boxes of matches; 2 packs of gum; 4 bars of candy; 4 packs of cakes.

There are a few other items you don't have to have rationed.

I was sitting in a restaurant Sunday and a civilian came in and asked for a platter with butter. The waiter just about threw him out.

We get plenty to eat and a good place to sleep. I can't say much more or I will be giving away military information.

Sincerely yours,
Pvt. Eugene B. Miller

U. S. Sub Dorado Listed As Lost

Washington, Oct. 26 (AP)—The submarine Dorado Monday was listed by the Navy as lost after serving as a combat ship for less than two months.

A communique stated on Sunday that the Dorado, which was commissioned on August 28, was "long overdue" and must be "presumed to be lost." It carried 65 officers and men.

While no reference was made as to where the loss occurred, it was presumed the action was in the Pacific.

Let's finish the job—quick!

Our Government asks us to conserve

FUEL

CRITICAL MATERIALS

TRANSPORTATION

MANPOWER

you can help by saving Natural Gas!

Seven vital industries—gas, oil, coal, transportation, communications, electric power and water—have been asked to bend every effort to win the war quickly by conserving fuels, manpower and materials. The Natural Gas industry here gladly complies with this conservation move, having urged gas conservation on its customers shortly after Pearl Harbor.

Now's the time when increased war production counts most—when we should push our war advantage to the utmost by providing the supplies and equipment to land the "knock-out punch."

Into the making of this fighting equipment goes a tremendous amount of Natural Gas.

So—let's finish the job—quick. This coming winter will be a test of industry's ability to equip our men for victory. You, by saving Natural Gas, can certainly do your part.

BACK THE ATTACK—BUY WAR BONDS

GETTYSBURG GAS CORP.

124 CARLISLE STREET
Telephone 406-W

Here's how to conserve natural gas in your home:

- Winter-condition your home through insulation, storm sash, weatherstripping and caulking.
- Set thermostat properly to avoid excessive room temperatures.
- Reduce the use of Gas to supplement other fuels for heating on cold days.
- Discontinue the use of your kitchen range for heating on cold days.
- Close off heat in rooms you do not use, close bedroom doors at night if windows are open, see that fireplace dampers are used.
- Check your heating plant, replace or clean filters before starting up furnace in fall, insulate your water heater.
- Learn to cook with low flame in small amounts of water, to save vitamins and Gas.

Industrial and commercial users will find their gas company willing and helpful in working out conservation measures.

How many boys from ADAMS COUNTY won't come back?

NOBODY knows the exact number. Nobody. But—

The number who do come back—on their own two feet instead of in a flag-draped box—will be in exact proportion to the job we do here at home.

For every minute that we can help shorten the war will mean more lives saved. (213 Americans were killed in the final day of the last war, and 1,114 were wounded before the 11:00 o'clock Armistice took effect.)

Now one way all of us can help shorten the war is to tighten our belts and buy more War Bonds. Yes, still more. And . . .

If you think you're buying all the War Bonds you are able to, imagine—for a minute—that it's after the war . . .

. . . you're standing at the station . . . a bunch of home-town boys, still in uniform, climb off the train . . . one of them kisses his wife and grabs his kid in his arms . . .

. . . and then he turns to a young woman beside them, a girl who looks like his wife's sister, and you overhear him say . . .

"Catherine, I don't know how to tell you how sorry I am . . . it's such a shame about Joe . . . it makes me sick all over when I think how he'd be here today if the war had only ended a week sooner."

Think it over. Can't you buy a few more War Bonds to help end the war that week or month sooner? Sure, it may mean giving up something, but what's that compared to what they're giving up?

And remember, always—the money you "can't spare" may spare a soldier's life!

KEEP ON BACKING THE ATTACK!

day by Dean W. E. Tilberg, chairman of the USO. Many soldiers are using the canteen to hear favorite radio programs, dropping in at certain hours on Saturday and Sunday to hear their favorite programs. Hundreds of postal cards have been given free to those in service. Games of some nature are constantly in progress at the canteen, it was stated.

A letter is sent to the parents of each member of the armed forces who visits the canteen stating he was there.

Appreciative Mother
Mrs. C. H. Smith, chairman of the canteen committee has received a number of letters from the parents in response to the notices. One mother asked for a report on how her son was getting along and Mrs. Smith promptly replied.

The following letter was recently received by the local USO from Mrs. W. B. Howell, Hammond, Indiana:

"I want to thank you for notifying me by postal that my son, Donald Scatena, had visited the USO in your city. I think it was especially thoughtful and hospitable of you to take the time to write to me, as I know how busy the workers of this organization are.

"Besides Donald, I have my husband with the Seabees on active duty overseas, and a stepson in the Coast Guard in Morehead City, North Carolina, on active sea duty. This is the first time I have ever received any correspondence from any servicemen's center, so you can imagine how delighted I was to hear from you. Any news from or about my boys' adds to my courage and lifts my morale.

Serve Refreshments
"I do not know of any more purposeful or wholesome organization that is accomplishing such good work. If those responsible for the success of the USO have no other reward, they can be assured of the heartfelt gratitude of mothers, such as I, who truly appreciate the cheer and friendliness they are spreading among our service men.

"I plan to visit Gettysburg in the near future, and hope that I will have the pleasure of meeting you and your associates.

"Donald is very happy in his training program, and has already told me how graciously he has been treated by your townspeople."

Refreshments at the canteen are provided each week-end by various church groups in the town and county, while the rent for the canteen on Chambersburg street and other operating expenses are paid by the county USO, it was stated.

Eight dances have already been staged by the USO here since the college air cadet program began last spring. The next will be held November 27, it was announced.

G-GIRL★

By LYDIA GRAY SHAW

Chapter 11
The conference did go down in history. Sally heard Donovan, head of the metals division, say as the group pushed out the door, "Boys, in the months I've been in Washington, that's the first time anyone has asked me what I thought of his ideas—and paid attention when I told him. There's one guy who isn't going to go around just shooting off his mouth."

Langhorne evidently was pleased too. He came out of the inner office holding a half-burned cigar gingerly. He said to Sally, "I'm going downstairs to the cafeteria till the smoke of battle clears away." There was a twinkle in his eye, and Sally knew the meeting had gone in his favor. Then he added, "That was a strategic move of yours, Miss Thayer. From now on, I think I will let you handle all public relations." He strolled out the door, preceded by a billowing cloud of blue smoke.

Sally was elated. She turned her exuberance to a practical end, and spent the rest of the afternoon cleaning out the files, a dirty, irritating job that she detested. Langhorne never did get back. Shortly after five, Sally decided to call it a day and locked up her desk.

Sally got out her lipstick, and wondered if she should go downtown tonight to do some shopping. It was Thursday, and the stores were open till nine—for the convenience of six-day-a-week workers like herself. But the crowds were dreadful, and it took so long to catch a sales clerk's eye that Sally steered clear of the big department stores whenever she could. As she snapped her compact shut, Stewart poked his head in the door. He'd been at the conference that day. He was a handsome man, with a shock of white hair that startled people, male and female, into looking twice at his very young, very alive face.

"Hasn't your boss recovered yet?" He always gave Sally an intense look that she figured was 99 per cent habit. The man probably thought he was every girl's heart throb. It made Sally respond by being more formal than the situation demanded.

Stewart went on, "Shutting up shop, are you? I wish I could call it a day. But I've got to make the rounds with the Army and Navy tonight."

Sally couldn't resist saying "Got to?" Stewart laughed, watching her put on her hat. Sally had gone on a buying spree after she got the new job, and the red pill box, particularly becoming with her dark hair, was part of her present to herself. "Not bad, lady," Stewart complimented her, leaning against the window sill. The personal note in his voice disturbed her. Stewart was the sort of man who made you uncomfortable even if he wasn't saying a word.

She moved toward the door. "Shall I lock you out or in?" "What's the hurry? I have lots of time. In spite of that red hat, I suppose you'd turn me down if I asked you to have a drink with me."

Sally stopped short by the door. "I would."

"Why?" Sally regarded him with a level gaze. "Because you probably have a wife and a couple of children back home in New York or Chicago or wherever it is, and because I don't like to go out with men I know nothing about."

Stewart regarded her quizzically. "You're only twenty years behind times, my girl. Just because I ask you to have a drink with me, do you have to have a character reference? I have some time to kill. So do you, or I miss my guess. I'll bet your dates are few and far between. There aren't many single men in this town. I'm inviting you out because you're attractive, yes, but also because you probably haven't even had a squint at a night spot. Have you been inside the Mayflower? No. Have you been to the Carleton? No. Have you been to the Shoreham? No. Good old Palmer Stewart, friend of the working girl."

In spite of the antagonism Stewart's good-looking face aroused in her, Sally had to laugh. He made her sound ridiculously Puritanical. Looking at it logically, was there any harm in one drink with a man who probably was a contemporary of your boss?

Stewart's invitation was tempting. It would be exciting to see the crowds, the men in uniform, the well-dressed women, to see the gay social side of Washington she knew nothing about. Stewart, from the look of him, undoubtedly knew his way around.

She told Stewart suddenly, "I'll surprise you and say yes."

Stewart had a most engaging smile. "A very sensible decision. We will see the town. Wait till I shut up my shop, and I'll stop back for you."

It was quite an evening. Sally tried to look nonchalant, as though cocktails at the Mayflower, dinner at the Shoreham, and dancing at the Della Rio were quite commonplace activities. Actually, she thought it was all wonderful. She tried not to stare at the glittering array of gold braid on display in the Mayflower cocktail lounge. There was everything from a Scotchman in beret and beautifully pleated plaid kilts to three Slavic-looking gentlemen resplendent in gold-embroidered red caps and red-lined capes. Those three had even Stewart stopped. He couldn't identify them.

It was after midnight when Stewart's party began to break up. The squat colonel who had barely spoken all evening said he had to get some sleep. Two others dropped off with him pooling a taxi. But Stewart managed to talk the rest of the group into having a final night-cap with him at his apartment.

To Sally, this was almost the most pleasant moment of the evening. The apartment, high and cool, looked out on the grounds of a heavily-wooded estate. Standing at the window, away from the chattering group, Sally thought how wonderful it would be to afford a place so at-

Foresee Crippling Effects Of Strikes

Washington, Oct. 26 (AP)—Continued rail transportation and coal production hung in the balance today, threatened by strikes over wages. The War Production Board foresaw crippling results in steel plants, shipyards and munitions factories unless the situation eased quickly.

The soft coal problem, raised because the United Mine Workers are without a contract with the operators, was complicated further by reports that the War Labor Board was cool to a proposed "model" plan.

The WLB, trustworthy sources said, is not likely to approve the union-backed "model"—a contract with the Illinois Soft Coal Operators association raising wages in effect $1.50 a day. An alternate formula, calling for $1.12½ a day more may be suggested by the board. This knowledge came out of week-end conferences in which the board explored the subject extensively.

Stewart came up behind her quietly. "Having a good time?" She'd had only the most casual conversation with him all evening.

Sally turned around, her eyes sparkling. "A very exciting time. It's been a perfect evening."

Stewart stood looking down at her, a half-smile on his handsome face. "Why don't you stay and spend the night? It would save me the trouble of finding a taxi to take you home."

FDR HITS "MUD SLINGERS" FOR U. S. WORKERS

Washington, Oct. 26 (AP)—Answering what he termed "Mud-Slingers" who have been calling the government a haven for draft dodgers and slackers, President Roosevelt said today that only 3.2 per cent of the nearly 3,000,000 full-time civilian employees of the government had received occupational deferments.

To Vice President Wallace and Speaker Rayburn, for reading to Senate and House, the President sent a 2,700-word letter of rebuttal to what he termed "groundless charges" and "irresponsible rumors." Many of these charges came from Congressmen during arguments over the drafting of pre-Pearl Harbor fathers.

Cites Figures

"These 'unfair accusations must be emphatically denied," Mr. Roosevelt asserted. Here are some of the figures he used to back up his denial: Permanent full-time employees of the government, both men and women—2,980,404, of whom 2,825,904 are in continental United States—as of July 31.

Of those in the United States, 1,952,700 work for the War and Navy departments, and about 84,000 have been given occupational deferments.

98,053 Deferred

The Post Office department, the next largest employer, has 315,741 workers of whom only 61—all postal inspectors—have been deferred.

In all other government agencies, 13,992 men have been granted occupational deferments.

The total occupational deferment figure is 98,053.

In addition, there are 2,003 uniformed personnel in the War Shipping administration's training and organization and 14,050 cadets in the training organization schools, who have been deferred, but the President said these men are not "really part of the civilian establishment of the government."

Watch Coal Field For Illegal Strike

Pittsburgh, Oct. 26 (AP)—Federal officials were reported watching Western Pennsylvania's soft coal fields today for possible violations of the Smith-Connally Anti-strike act, after the Vesta 4 mine of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. was closed by a walkout involving 1,400 men.

Joseph Yablonsky, member of the United Mine Workers international board from the Pittsburgh district 5, who lives near the mine at California, about 40 miles south of Pittsburgh, said the "national coal situation" had nothing to do with the work stoppage there, which he termed unauthorized.

Start Back To Work In Mines

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 26 (AP)—Six big coal mines producing industrial fuel resumed production with less than normal crews Monday as officials of the United Mine Workers of America predicted an early termination of the unauthorized walkout of nearly all of this state's 22,000 union miners.

The mines, most of which had been idle since Oct. 13 or 14, provide coal for the fuel-shy steel and iron plants here.
